Lemonade, that cool, refreshing drink. Do you remember your first lemonade stand? I do. I think most kids do. For generations kids across the country have set up shop in their front yards with pitchers of the tart elixir awaiting the generosity of friends, neighbors, and passers-by. My own children opened for business right after Hurricane Katrina to raise money for kids in New Orleans. Even at 5 and 8, they had that strong empathy that often ignites generosity. I love to stop at lemonade stands and partake of their offerings. Why? Well, my husband always says if a toddler hands you their ringing toy phone, you answer it, no matter how old you are. He’s right. And if a child is learning about entrepreneurship or charity, you buy a Dixie cup filled with lemonade...for $10. Because many philanthropists started out with lemonade stands. And many more supported them...even when they weren’t thirsty. Thus, the seed of generosity was planted.

This Annual Report is dedicated to all those behind the scenes that made the lemonade, hammered together those crooked structures, and even those that helped paint the fancy “for sale” signs. (Our inspiration for this Annual Report is pictured to the right.)

It is dedicated to those that sold the lemonade for causes that were meaningful to you because learning how to be generous starts at that same place of caring and passion every time.

And, it’s dedicated to those who bought the lemonade, paid more than it was really worth, and behaved as if it was the most refreshing drink you’d ever tasted just to encourage the spirit of giving.

Poor lemons. They get such a bum rap. But this I know for sure...when life hands you lemons, some choose to make lemonade, but others choose to take the seeds and grow an entire orchard. And the world needs both kinds of people.
Dear Friends,

Take a moment to dream a little with us. Imagine that there’s $1.4 million more in charitable funding available each year in Grant County. Because it’s true.

During the next decade, if everyone in Grant County gave 5% of their estate to the Community Foundation, the total would generate an additional $1.4 million in grants to our community, every year, forever. This ultimately helps our entire community as we achieve our mission of connecting people, resources, and causes to promote sustainable impact towards the betterment of Grant County.

What could we do? We could:
- Create safer schools and neighborhoods.
- Improve parks and greenways.
- Educate more students and provide more scholarships.
- Stop hunger.
- Provide more, and better, care for the most vulnerable in our communities.
- Support arts and culture throughout our hometown.

In 2012, we studied something that could bring us this type of impact, and so much more. It’s called the Transfer of Wealth.

Simply put, this is what happens when one generation passes money down to the next generation. This is where we discovered the startling statistic of $3.3 billion being passed down to the next generation. And this long-term thinking could even have a big impact over the next ten years. If everyone gave just 5% of their estate to the Community Foundation during the next decade, that would mean $64 million in estate gifts that would influence change in our community forever. From this invested principal, we could give away an additional $1.4 million every year to the causes you care most about.

The Transfer of Wealth numbers are staggering. The possibilities are limitless. What causes do you love? What future do you see for our community? As we see it, the Transfer of Wealth is the opportunity to converse with those in this community about what they want the future to be. We invite you to join the conversation by making the Community Foundation part of your plans for the future, just as we have, no matter how far down the road it might be. Long-term planning is our specialty. Dream a little with us as you turn the pages of this report and see the how the lives of students have changed and the missions of charitable organizations have already been furthered. How can you plan to make our community better and stronger? It’s your Community Foundation. It’s your community. Help us make these dreams a reality.

Lemonade salesmen of yesterday become the philanthropists of today. They’re just like you and me. They grew up, worked hard, accomplished many goals, and even achieved a few lifelong dreams. And now they’re making a new plan. A plan to leave a legacy for those they love and those they’ve never even met. And, it’s a big plan, too. In the next 50 years, the people of Grant County are expected to pass down $3.3 billion to the next generation. But we don’t have to wait 50 years.

Community Foundation of Grant County, Indiana, Inc.
That’s what we said to several Grant County organizations that received grants from the Community Foundation this fiscal year. During a celebration where we served milk and cookies, we asked them to give us five words to describe their grant and their gratitude. “Art inspires hope, creativity, love” were the five words used by CSA when they were given $5,500 for a new awning on their building. The Grant County Economic Growth Council chose “Encouraging entrepreneurs to dream big” for their five words when they were awarded $4,500 for the expansion of the Young Entrepreneurs Program. And “Safe Sleep = Happy Babies” were the five words from Carey Services-Early Head Start. They received $3,283 for infant classroom cribs.

This year, the Community Foundation gave over $186,000 through the distribution of community grants. Thanks to our donors, children were given shoes, neighborhoods received parks, and puppies have a new place to play. So, when it was our turn to express five words that best describe the Community Foundation, it was obvious:

You make it all possible.

It’s an investment. Unlike any other, really. One life choosing to impact another. Not because it’s someone you know and love. Not because you can control the outcome. Just because you believe that everyone can use a little encouragement—or a lot of encouragement. This year, Community Foundation donors encouraged college-bound students to the tune of $421,000.

These students are off to become doctors, lawyers, teachers, beauticians, musicians, and nurses. They are soon to become the leaders of our community, a well-rounded group of Grant County’s finest. From public schools, private schools, and home school. From traditional to non-traditional. Med school to trade school. And everything in between. These are the students who bear the title: Grant County Scholar.

Fleming, Harper receive Lilly scholarships

Each year, Grant County accredited high schools are asked to nominate one representative for the Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship Award. The representatives must attend a Grant County high school and have a minimum 3.5 grade point average (unweighted). Additionally, they must be in the top 10% of their graduating class, intend to pursue a bachelor’s degree at an accredited public or private college or university in Indiana, have strong leadership skills, and demonstrate volunteerism through community service. The Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship awards full tuition for four years to the Indiana college of the scholar’s choice, plus a $900 stipend for required books and equipment.

On April 1, several members of the Foundation Team went to two Grant County schools to announce the winners of the 2013 Lilly Endowment Community Scholarship. There was applause, laughter, some tears, a bouquet of lilies, and two really excited and grateful high school seniors. This year, this prestigious award went to Abram Fleming from Mississinewa High School and Christine Harper from Oak Hill High School.

It all started with lemonade stands. And here we are still trying to make a difference today. And, we know you are, too. Here’s how:

If you’d like to make a donation to one of our current funds, please visit www.GiveToGrant.org or mail your donation to 505 West Third Street, Marion, IN 46952.

Need more information? No problem. Let’s talk about opening an endowed fund of your own, leaving a charity in your will, or other long-term legacy gifts that might interest you. We’d love to chat and maybe even enjoy a glass of lemonade.
